

Glengarry My Home

Ken MacRae

In the hills of Glen - gar - ry my heart lin - gers still, by the Though the hea - ther blooms not where the Scotch Riv - er flows, still a When the two end of - dred life's years since the the High - lan - ders' song, fir - st the end of life's sto - ry comes clo - ser to me, by a lake - side, the burn - side, the sturdy sto - ne mill; In my love for the the old land the in every hea - rt grows; Don't for - rang through the the woods on the the winters ni - ghts long; Th - ey - bend in the the ri - ver I'll bide just a wee; Be it dreams there I wan - der with friends of my own, In that get the old coun - ty wh - er you roam, For it's sang of their hills and the life they had known, Of their hot day in sum - mer or win - ter winds blow, Have a old Scot - tish coun - ty Gl - en - gar - ry My Home proud you should be - ty if Gl - en - gar - ry's your home. once hap - py days in me th - eir old High - land home. pi - per play for me Gl - en - gar - ry My Home.

Through the woods and the wilds all the high - lan - ders came, They brought How I love the old coun - ty 'tis hea - ven to see, as I They were stripped of their my Gae - lic, their tar - tan and song; They had Wrap me 'round in my tar - tan and my old sgian dudh, With my fame to Glen - gar - ry and gave it the name. And I love the young las - sie who's wai - ting for me, And I no - thing but in mem - ries which they bid - ded passed a - long, There's no crom - ach in hand then I'll they feel not a - lone, Thou it's can - not for - get it wh - ev - er I roam, 'tis a can - not for - get it wh - ev - er I roam, 'tis a myth, there's no won - der just let it be known, all their far I must tra - vel, I'll feel not a - lone, hea - ven's
